"Maybe" by Oriole Orchestra

"Sunshine of Mine" ... by Gene Rodemich's Orchestra

Oriole does an individual interpretation of "Maybe." From the guttural remarks of the trombone to the shimmering passages of the saxophone one finds it charmingly different. "Sunshine of Mine" affords much golden music. It is a lovely melody, given in a subdued fashion. There's always something new on Brunswick Records.

SO BIG

By Edna Ferber

She eagerly learned what she could of this region once known as New Holland. Its people were all truck gardeners, and as Dutch as the Netherlands from which they or their fathers had come. She heard stories of wooden shoes worn in the wet prairie fields; of a red-faced plodding Cornelius Van der Bilt living in placid ignorance of the existence of his distinguished New York patrimonial connection; of sturdy, phlegmatic, industrious farmers in squat, many-windowed houses patterned after the north Holland houses of their European memories. Many of them had come from the town of Schoorl, or near it. Others from the lowlands outside Amsterdam. Selma pictured it another Sleepy Hollow, a replica of the quaint settlement in Washington Irving's delightful tale. The deserting schoolmaster had been a second Ichabod Crane, naturally; the farmer at whose house she was to live a modern Myhrer Van Tassel, pipe, chuckle, and all. She and Julie Hempel read the tale over together on an afternoon when Julie managed to evade the maternal edict. Selma, picturing mellow golden corn fields, crusty crullers, crumbling oystercakes, toothsome wild ducks, side of smoked beef, pumpkin pies, country dances, apple-cheeked farm-girls, felt sorry for poor Julie staying on in the dull gray commonplaceness of Chicago.

The last week in October found her on the way to High Prairie, seated beside Klaas Pool in the two-horse wagon with which he brought his garden stuff to the Chicago market. She sat perched next him on the high seat like a saucy crew before a miniature Holstein. So they jolted up the long Haisted road through the late October sunset. The prairie land just outside Chicago had not then been made a terrifying and epic thing of slag-heaps, smoke-stacks, and blast furnaces like a Pennell drawing. Today it stretched away and away in the last rays of the late autumn sunlight over which the lake mist was beginning to creep like chignon covering gold. Mile after mile of cabbage fields, jade-green against the earth. Mile after mile of red cabbage, a rich plummy Burgundy veined with black. Between these, heaps of corn were piled-up sunshine. Against the horizon an occasional patch of woods showed the last russet and bronze of oak and maple. These things Selma saw with her beauty-loving eye, and she clasped her hands in their black cotton gloves.

"Oh, Mr. Pool!" she cried. "Mr. Pool! How beautiful it is here!" Klaas Pool, driving his team of horses down the muddy Haisted road, was looking straight ahead, his eyes fastened seemingly on an invisible spot between the off-horse's ears. He was not the kind of brain that acts quickly, nor was his body's mechanism the sort that quickly responds to that brain's message. His eyes were china-blue in a round face that was covered with a stubble of stiff golden hairs. His round moon of a head was set low and solidly between his great shoulders, so that as he began to turn it now, slowly, you marvelled at the process and waited fearfully to hear a creak. He was turning his head toward Selma, but keeping his gaze on the spot between his horse's ears. Evidently the head and the eyes revolved by quite distinct processes. Now he faced Selma almost directly. Then he brought his eyes around, slowly, until they focused on her. His eyes, which she had noticed with her eyes, were now looking at her with a certain gleam at this new venture into which she was entering; and with excitement such as she used to feel when the curtain rose with tantalizing deliberateness on the first act of a play which she was seeing with her father. She was well bundled up against the sharp October air in her cloak and muffler, with a shawl tucked about her knees and waist. The wind coming from an unexpected point, and her eyes were wide, dark, and bright. He saw this sparkling delight glaze Klaas Pool's heavy features, and carved from the stuff of another clay and race. His pale blue eyes showed incomprehension.

"Beautiful?" he echoed, in puzzled interrogation. "What is beautiful?" Selma's slim arms flashed out from the swathings of cloak, shawl and muffler and were flung wide in a gesture that embraced the landscape on which the late afternoon sun was casting a glow peculiar to that lake region, all rose and golden and mist-shimmering.

"This! The—cabbages." A slow-dawning film of fun crept over the blue of Klaas Pool's stare. This film spread almost imperceptibly so that it fluted his broad nostrils, met and widened his full lips, reached and agitated his massive shoulders, tickled the round belly, so that all Klaas Pool, from his eyes to his waist, was rippling and shaking with slow, solemn, heavy Dutch mirth.

"Cabbages is beautiful," his round pop eyes staring at her in a fixity of glee. "Cabbages is beautiful!" His silent laughter now rose and became audible in a rich throaty chord. It was plain that laughter, with Klaas Pool, was not a thing to be lightly dismissed, once raised. "Cabbages—" he choked a little, and spluttered, overcome. Now he began to shift his gaze back to his horses and the road, by the same process of turning his head first and then his eyes, so that to Selma the mirthful tail of his right eye and his round red cheek with the golden fuzz on it gave him an incredibly roguish brownie look.

Selma laughed, too, even while she protested his laughter. "But they are beautiful," she insisted. "They are beautiful. Like jade and Burgundy. No, like—uh—like—what's that in—like chrysoprase and porphyry. All those fields of cabbages and the corn and the beet-tops together look like Persian patches."

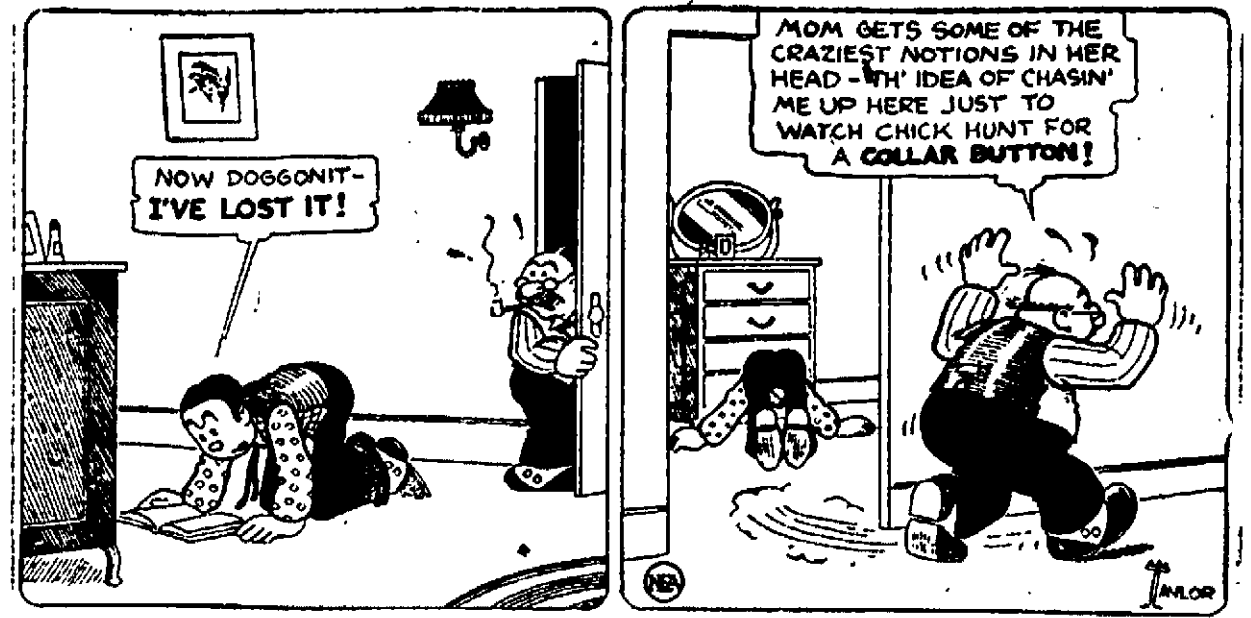

Which was, certainly, no way for a new school teacher to talk to a Holland truck gardener driving his team along the dirt road on his way to High Prairie. But then, Selma, remember, had read Byron at seven-teen. Klaas Pool knew nothing of chrysoprase and porphyry. Nor of Byron. Nor, for that matter, of jade and Burgundy. He knew cabbage from seed to sauerkraut; he knew and grew varieties from the sturdy Flat Dutch to the early Wakefield. But that they were beautiful; that they looked like jewels; that they lay like Persian patches, had never entered his head, and rightly. What was the head of a cabbage, or for that matter, of a rooster, so-stained, toiling Dutch truck farmer to do with someone's chrysoprase, with jade, with Burgundy, with Persian patches? The horses clattered down the heavy country road. Now and again the bulk beside Selma was agitated silently, as before. And from behind the golden fuzz of stubble heard she would hear, "Cabbages! Cabbages!" But she did not feel offended. She could not have been offended at anything to day. For in spite of her recent tragedy, for her thirteen years, her loneliness, the turning through of this new home to which she was going, among strangers, she was conscious of a warm thrill of emotion, of excitement—of adventure! That was it. "The whole thing's just a grand adventure," Simon Peak said. Selma gave a little bounce of anticipation. She was doing a revolutionary and daring thing: a thing that the Vermont and now fortunately, inaccessible Peaks would have regarded with horror. For equipment she had youth, curiosity, a strong frame, a brown lady's cloth, one wintered customer, four hundred and ninety-seven dollars; and a gay, adventuresome spirit that was never to die, though it led her into many a scrape and she often found, at the end, only a trackless waste from which she had to retrace her steps painfully. But always, to her, red and green cabbages were to be jade and chrysoprase and porphyry. Life has no weapons against a woman like that.

GOODLAND URGES BETTER EQUIPED PARK FOR CAMPERS

Mayor Says Much Can Be Accomplished If Harmony Is Maintained

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., is in favor of a completely equipped tourist camp for Appleton and one that will be self-sustaining, according to his address at the dinner of city officials and members of municipal boards and commissions at the vocational school Thursday evening. He promised courtesy, a clean business administration and efficient city government during his term and admonished boards to do their best, well but be conservative in their expenditures.

"I am a great believer in our tourist camp and would like to see it become the best in this whole region," he declared. "I believe that this can be accomplished and that it can be put on a self-sustaining basis."

There were 1,558 parties registered last year, he said, and this number can be doubled with proper facilities. A fee of 10 cents for its use would mean revenue of at least $1,500 a year. The camps at Appleton would have to be made more modern if this is done, however. It would be necessary to provide gas for cooking and shower baths with hot and cold water, and cleanliness would have to predominate.

ADVERTISE CITY

Mayor Goodland illustrated the possible success of this plan by describing his stay at Billings, Mont., while driving to Yellowstone park. A charge was made for an overnight stay at the camp but it was such an ideal place he and Mrs. Goodland decided to stay an extra day and spent $37 in the garage and stores. Appleton is at the center of the route from Chicago to the lakes region, and if $11,000 were taken in here last year, a completely equipped camp would bring much more revenue to Appleton. A city is well advertised through a good camp, he said.

"While the job of mayor is a thankless one, I will try to do the best that is in me while serving the city," said the city executive. "I am to be courteous to all who come to me with complaints, whether they are right or wrong. I will endeavor to give them a good clean business administration. I feel that I have the council back of me and that it will continue to stand back of me. We are united as one. With this happy situation there is no doubt about the outcome of my administration. I believe the council pulling together will accomplish whatever we get out to do."

Efficiency will be expected of every city employee, said Mr. Goodland. He asked each to do the best that was in him, to bear in mind that was a public servant and be ever courteous to the public. He stressed the need of placing responsibility and holding each employee responsible to the proper committee head. If a complaint comes to the city, the proper official ought to be able to place his finger on them and who could remedy it. The greatest trouble with Aldermanic government, he said, is the tendency to "pass the buck" and he desires to overcome this.

BUILD FOR FUTURE

Boards were told that when they attempt anything, they should do the task right or put it over until it could be done right. They should build for the future.

A few years ago, said Mayor Goodland, there was considerable criticism of Lawrence college. Nowadays it is heard no more because people realize what the college is to Appleton.

Park commissioners were advised to map out the park plans for the future. These men should not attempt to do all the work this year, but to get some reliable park planner to lay out a plan which should be carried out in part each year.

REX BEACH AUTHOR OF "FLOWING GOLD"

First National Picture by Famous Novelist Showing Here This Week

Rex Beach, whose novels of the rugged outdoors are eagerly read by millions, due to the virile creations of his fertile brain, is the author of "Flowing Gold," a First National picture, produced by Richard Walton Tully, which opened a 3 days engagement at the Elite Theatre yesterday. Directed by Joe De Grasse, it is an excellent cast, which includes Milton Sills, Anna Q. Nilsson, Alice Calhoun, Josephine Crowell, Charles Sellon, Bert Woodruff, Cissy Fitzgerald and John Roche.

"Flowing Gold" is the phrase the author has coined for oil, by means of which thousands of persons have become millionaires. The scenes are laid in the oil country against a background of hundreds of derricks.

Beach has written many stories of stirring adventure, but none with more action and suspense than "Flowing Gold." In the estimation of unbiased critics. Among the thrilling episodes in the picture are the burning of an oil well, a cloudburst, which spreads the burning liquid over the countryside, destroying all property in its path and several breath-taking fights among the heroic characters in the story. And there is a romance, with Milton Sills and Anna Q. Nilsson as the lovers.

SOUTH OF 1835 IS SHOWN IN FILM "The Prodigal Judge." Vitaphone spectacular special production of the old south in 1835, which will be shown at the New Bijou Today and Saturday Theater Today and Saturday was made by an all-star cast under direction of Edward Jose.

Many of the scenes were taken in Virginia and parts of the south where the story is laid. Every effort has been made to reproduce the foliage and surroundings described by Vaughan Kester in his world-famous novel of the same name upon which this picture is based.

It has been built upon a solid foundation—a real story. The book took the country by storm. It abounds in quaint, picturesque and lovable characters who appeal both to the heart and the sense of humor. Unlike many literary successes, "The Prodigal Judge" easily is adapted to visualization on the screen. The people in it are not just "characters"—they are men and women who weep and laugh, who hate and do things.

LOWER RATES ON MONEY JUST AHEAD, BABSON PREDICTS

Quiet Business and Lack of Demand Will Force Prices Down

Babson Park, Mass.—Roger Babson today issued the following statement relative to the probable trend of money rates.

"Borrowers should not be frightened by the stiffening in money rates which took place recently," says Mr. Babson. "Even the increase in note circulation or the decrease in gold reserves should have no permanent effect on money rates. As business quietens down, money rates always decline and reserves increase. Hence the present conservative attitude of business men and their temporary unwillingness to go into new ventures must cause a decline in money rates and a corresponding increase in the selling price of gold bonds. Every cloud has a silver lining and a quiet business year is no exception to this rule."

MANY FAILURES
"Possibly banks are a little frightened just now by the heavy failure figures. The last report completed the first quarter of 1924 which showed 5655 defaults having liabilities of $184,865,000 compared with 5216 defaults having liabilities of $138,231,000 for the first quarter of 1923. This increase in failures affects all sections excepting the south Atlantic states and the Pacific coast states. The agricultural central west has been especially hard hit. On the other hand it should not be forgotten that banks must loan money in order to make money. A bank which hoards its funds would soon go into bankruptcy. A bank must loan its deposits or go broke. Hence, all that bank directors can do is to choose which are the best loans or from whom they can get the best rate commensurate with safety. When business is active and the demand for money exceeds the supply, banks are independent and their customers very humble. When, however, business is quiet and the supply of money exceeds the demand from good borrowers, then these same banks themselves become humble. Considering the vast amount of money now in circulation, when the tide finally does turn in favor of the borrower, it will be a flood."

MIGHT LOAN ABROAD
Mr. Babson was asked whether he sees anything which would prevent this cheaper money from materializing.

"The only thing which can possibly make high money rates for the next months," he replied, "is a willingness by Europe to pay very high rates and a willingness by our banks to be tempted by these high rates. This means they would be loaning our money to Europe instead of to our own people. Personally I doubt if the banks will do this to any extent. The bankers of the United States are a fair minded group of men, intensely interested in building up the communities in which they live. They loan money only when they cannot safely loan it at home. Moreover, we should not expect any banks to loan money when they cannot safely loan it, because the money really is not their money but rather the money of the people of the community. I am basing my forecast of lower rates on these four things:

- (1) Banks will loan money in order to exist.
- (2) Banks will loan money where they can get the best rate with what in their opinion is safety.
- (3) Banks will question the safety of most foreign loans until conditions in Europe become more settled. Hence, they will loan their funds at home.
- (4) In the meantime the demand for funds at home will slacken owing to a general quietness in business as evidenced by the Babson chart standing at 8 per cent below normal. To tempt people to borrow under such conditions rates must decline. These declining rates, however, always result in new developments and make for permanent growth and increased prosperity."

Start Now To File Claims For Exemption From Tax

Many inquiries have come to the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, regarding the filing of affidavits to secure the $500 exemption from tax assessments under the new homestead exemption law, but the procedure really is a simple detail, Mr. Hantschel says.

Affidavit blanks may be obtained from the city, village or town assessors. They are to be filled out and sworn to in the presence of a notary public who is to affix his seal thereto. The affidavit is then to be filed with the assessor between May 1 and July 1.

The information to be written in on the blank is the place of residence, ward, city, and county, the signature of the person filing, the description of the homestead as it appears on the last tax receipt, the number of years the person has occupied the premises, that the person actually owns and occupies such homestead and is liable for the taxes thereon and is claiming the exemption allowed by law. The rest is to be filled in by the notary public. The affidavit may be sworn to before any town, city or village clerk, justice of the peace, notary public, or any other person authorized by law to administer oaths.

WHAT EXEMPTS

The law enacted exempts "all buildings and improvements upon a parcel of land owned and used as a homestead as defined in section 2383 of the statutes not exceeding $500 of the value of such buildings and improvements, if the owner of the homestead has filed an affidavit with the assessor on or before the first day of July of the year in which the assessment is made claiming exemption under the provisions of this subsection."

The right of exemption applies to the owner of a dwelling house occupying the same as a homestead; the owner of a store building, duplex or apartment house, occupying a portion thereof as a homestead; two or more owners of a duplex or apartment house each occupying a portion thereof as a homestead; the purchaser under a land contract occupying the premises as a homestead; the fee owner of homestead premises subject to mortgage; tenants under a long term lease occupying the premises as a homestead, if they are required to pay taxes thereon.

Just as the same family living together can claim only one exemption, even though two or more of them may have an interest in the premises. The exemption applies to the assessment of buildings and improvements on the homestead only and not to the land itself. Actual use and occupancy of the premises as a homestead is essential in all cases but temporary absence because of sickness or other legitimate cause will not defeat the exemption if there is a fixed intention to return and occupy the premises as soon as the cause of the absence is removed.

Need More Help So Girl Scouts Can Go To Camp

Did you ever have all your friends go on an outing when you could not possibly go? If you have drop a nickel or a dime into the small tents which have been placed on cigar counters and in banks for the camping funds of the Appleton Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

Although the troops and fires work throughout the year to earn enough money to finance the camp for those who cannot get the money from home, there still are a few girls who cannot go to Waupaca during July without your generosity. The expense of going to camp is little more than $5 each per week and that means only 100 nickles for you and your friends to give to make one girl happy.

Don't stop at dropping one nickel, drop two or a dime and if you know what fun camps are for a lot of grade school girls, drop a quarter.

KELLER ASKS HIS FORMER STUDENTS TO HELP WITH BOOK

Former Principal of High School Seeks Information from People Here

Paul G. W. Keller, formerly principal of Appleton high school and also a former principal of the North Side high school of Manitowoc, is seeking information from his former pupils in Appleton and Manitowoc for a new book he is writing. At present Mr. Keller is at Waaukegan, Ill.

He is sending out questionnaires to the 1,500 students who have graduated under him during the years he has headed high schools. Mr. Keller explains that for the last ten years he has been engaged in obtaining material for a book he plans to write on vocational guidance. In sending out the 1,500 letters he hopes to be able to find out what lines of endeavor students enter after leaving high school. He expects this to show which particular studies proved factors in shaping their careers.

In the questionnaires he inquires whether the high school graduate continued his education and if so to what extent. The following question will

MORALS LOWERED BY USE OF CIGARETS

Appleton Pastors Agree That Use of Cigaretts Is Harmful to Young Folks

That cigaret smoking is injurious to the moral development of the growing boy is the unanimous opinion of the pastors of Appleton in reply to a questionnaire sent out by a local welfare organization. Many of the answers were accompanied by offers to aid in any work to lessen the widespread use of cigarets among the younger boys.

A conclusion that the general recklessness and misconduct of a large portion of modern youth is due in explain what Mr. Keller is attempting to bring out:

"Name one or more specific contacts (people, books, subjects) during school that led to your present work or activities."

Here is another question that Mr. Keller hopes will bring out a worthwhile response:

"What kind of help would you give young people concerning the value of a high school education?"

large part to the rapid increase in the consumption of cigarets since the war, was the opinion advanced by one pastor. He pointed out how a craving of cigarets gains strength with their continued use and its natural result is a paralysis of the nerves and a gradual loss of moral fiber. Habitual use therefore frequently leads to a demand for greater excesses along other lines.

A large number of the replies laid at the door of the cigaret the evil associations which cause a lowering of moral standards in an otherwise upright Christian boy. A sort of comradeship of wrong doing is developed between the younger boys and those who provide him with the "making's" and thus other evil habits and lowered morals are easily fostered.

While this spirit continues to be evidenced among older boys, it is especially true of the boys of early "teens" and as a result a large percentage of youthful criminals are discovered to be cigaret users, according to juvenile court records.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN EUROPE

In order to avert civil war or revolution, with its terrors, Great Britain after the war adopted the system of paying unemployment pensions. The last was the fourth winter during which the plan was in effect, and London reports that there are still a million men out of work. The government has been paying one pound sterling, equivalent to $4.30 a week, to every idle person unable to obtain work, a total of more than $220,000,000 a year.

Conditions have been worse, fundamentally, in Great Britain than on the continent of Europe; that is, they would have been worse had not the government given support to the workmen. Great Britain is a large factory and market place, in which employment is obtained almost exclusively in commerce, whereas on the continent of Europe there is considerable agriculture.

There is hope in Great Britain that the expected revival of international trade, which is the people's chief reliance, will dispose of the unemployment question. Obviously, there is but one means of terminating unemployment, and this is by providing employment. The only means of providing employment is to resume business. The reparations plan is more than its name implies. It is not exclusively a scheme for payment of reparations. It is a comprehensive plan of economic restoration, which would stabilize commerce and government and furnish the means for carrying on business.

Europe is tired of social unrest, political inefficiency and industrial idleness, with the problems and hazards which accompany widespread discontent. It is anxious to return to the ways of peace. This is made evident by the rapidity with which the principal governments have accepted the reparations plan. Commercial recovery in Europe will benefit the United States, and especially, at first, agriculture. There will be a market for surplus farm products, particularly breadstuffs, with Europe once more able to buy what is needed.

DON'T WAIT TO SWAT

The efforts of the human race against pests might be more effective if we did not so complacently take for granted that such bugs and insects come into being full grown and active and have their origin in nothing more than nature's desire to annoy man.

The best way to deal with these pests is, of course, to carry the war into the enemy's country. For although these our enemies get around pretty well after they are full grown and on the wing, there is a time in their brief existence when they are confined to restricted areas. Mosquitoes lay eggs on the surface of the water. The more out of the way and inaccessible such water is to man the more likely the mosquito is to use it as a breeding place. A tin can in the back yard with a half inch of water in it will supply a whole community with enough mosquitoes to keep the entire population busy chasing them when they are once grown up.

Flies breed in filth and garbage. Such breeding places are as congenial and attractive to them as is a soft nest to a setting hen. By unerring instinct they are drawn to them, and once they have found them, the result is swarms of flies in the months that follow. It is nature's inexorable law that where there are filth and garbage in the spring, there will be flies in the summer.

The best way to forestall this effect is to make man's law that there shall be no exposed filth and garbage as inexorable as nature's law. By a careful cleaning up of such places we can rid ourselves of both mosquitoes and flies. To make this result the more inevitable it is best to begin action against these pests before they are hatched to remove every possible opportunity for breeding on their part. In proportion as we take seriously our health commissioner's suggestion to dedicate the month of May to such house cleaning, we shall have gratifying returns from our efforts in the months to come.

THE COURT AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

A judge in a large Texas city dismisses all traffic-law cases from his docket and notifies the mayor and police that he will not try these charges against respectable citizens until the police arrest crooks. He adds that the mayor and council, if they do not approve of his action, may accept his resignation.

Offhand, it impresses us that the judge has a high regard for his duty and by his apparent courage is urging the police to enforce the law. On second thought, however, his stand looks boastful, and it appears that he is neglecting his own duty and calling the attention of other public officers to theirs.

The confusion which has resulted from widespread disrespect for law, infraction of law and contempt for authority has affected all parts of national, state and local government, as well as all classes and divisions of citizenship. Each of us could name certain laws that we think should be enforced, but do we as individuals live up to the letter of every law in existence? It is easy to tell others what they must do to be good citizens, yet are we lenient with ourselves in our personal conduct? Our point of view is generally pharisaical.

It is notable, of late, that judges in different parts of the country have begun to take a new view of their duties. They have begun to transcend the duties of other public officers, and in bench decisions and public utterances have practically stated judicial opinions in advance of litigation. In fact, in many instances, judges have virtually disqualified themselves.

It is the special duty of judges to interpret the law, and not to enforce it. When they presume to take part in actual enforcement of law they really cease to be judges. The next thing we shall hear will be criticism of the courts—which should be free from criticism—by other public officers and citizens.

How we shall revive respect for authority and obedience to law is a problem which is not easy to solve. It would not be a difficult question were there only one cause and were not some supposedly respectable citizens in practically every class engaged in criminal practices. Corruption, mistakes and selfishness have set public opinion and public affairs at cross purposes. The way back possibly is to adjust legislation, law enforcement, interpretation of law and public policy to harmonize with public opinion.

MEXICO AND ORES AND MINERALS

American capital has had a hard time in Mexico, where its investments are large, since the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz, the president who ruled as a king. It has paid tribute to the group in power and the group in revolt, just as it divides its mite, which is not small, between the two contending parties in a political campaign. Mexican public officials and their colleagues have become rich, almost without exception by the shift of authority.

As Senator Wheeler of Montana charges, it may be a fact that some American interests aided the de la Huerta revolution. Contrariwise, it may be true that American interests aided the Obregon administration. The latter had recognized formally the property rights of American capital, but its candidate for president was a radical communist.

De la Huerta upset conditions, but he was known to be a conservative. So far American capital has not fared well in Mexico under whichever group has been in control of the government. It has not made offerings, but has paid tribute.

The difference between gloves and bathing trunks is it takes two gloves to make a pair.

The light brigade charged like thunder, and so do the gasoline men.

The difference between many a man's last year suit and this year's suit is merely a matter of time.

Now that spring is here we are all seeing better days.

A COMPROMISE PHYSIC

It is with considerable reluctance that I include in the medicine cupboard a physic of any kind, for fear that in doing so I may encourage the physic habit or perhaps give a wrong impression that certain physics—the one I suggest—are all right to take whenever one desires a physic. I don't believe such medicine exists. But I do nevertheless suggest two physics for the medicine cupboard, namely, phenolphthalein tablets and Sedlitz powders. The phenolphthalein is a compromise, with the popular notion that one must take something to "regulate the bowels." The Sedlitz powders are essential in a household outfit.

Phenolphthalein dissolves but slightly in water though freely in alcohol, and an alcoholic solution is commonly used as an "indicator" of chemical reactions—the solution turns a brilliant red when the reaction becomes alkaline. Phenolphthalein came into use as a laxative accidentally. It was used in wine to impart color, and persons who drank much of the wine noticed the laxative effect, which was finally traced to the phenolphthalein.

The effect is mild, nongripping, and rather less from irritation than is the effect of castor oil. The phenolphthalein is so slightly soluble that lozenges or tablets must be chewed thoroughly or else finely powdered to insure the effect, although it is true that phenolphthalein increases peristalsis by merely irritating the intestine and most of it is eliminated, not absorbed into the system as are the more objectionable physics. Still, when phenolphthalein is freely taken a little is absorbed and eliminated through the kidneys, imparting a pink or red color to the urine if the urine happens to be alkaline. The medicine is practically not poisonous in any dose, even though now and then certain individuals manifest an idiosyncrasy toward phenolphthalein, perhaps developing a skin rash from the drug.

For child or adult one or two grains of phenolphthalein in tablet or lozenge, well masticated or finely powdered, is the dose for a mild laxative effect. That is, all, it is preferable, I think, for occasional use, to the physics which are commonly resorted to, yet I certainly do not mean to suggest that it is in any sense a remedy or cure for constipation. It is merely a makeshift, a temporary expedient, a compromise, the least of many evils.

A Sedlitz powder consists of two parts: In the blue paper two grains of Rochelle salts (biphosphate of sodium and potassium and 40 grains of saleratus (sodium bicarbonate), and in the white paper 35 grains of tartaric acid. The contents of the blue paper are dissolved in a third of a glass of water, and the contents of the white paper in the same amount of water in another glass, and when all the effervescence gives off and the mixture is thoroughly mixed, it is ready for use. A famous way of setting a sick stomach and perhaps warding off a threatened headache. For a child or a very delicate patient it is often well to divide a Sedlitz powder into about four doses to be given at half hour intervals instead of one big ceremony.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The Tuberculous Teacher

My daughter is in the fifth grade at school. The teacher has tuberculosis, coughs a good deal, but continues to teach. Is there any danger for my daughter? (Mrs. S. L. J.)

Answer.—There is grave danger for every pupil in the room. You should complain to the health department, if the teacher has tuberculosis.

For five years I have gone without breakfast because I saw no good reason for eating it. I find I can do better mental work in the morning without breakfast and have noticed no harmful effects. In fact I imagine I feel better, especially since I eat no more at lunch or dinner than before. Can you tell me whether any detrimental effect is likely to follow? (L. V. F.)

Answer.—Positively and absolutely not. In fact your plan might be a healthful one for thousands of overworked folk. Trouble is that the coffee is a good one hates to skip breakfast. Come to think of it, I have been skipping breakfast for several years myself, and it does me good.

World's News Told In Brief, Simple Style

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Redeem—L. W. W.—not more radical in the sense the world's ordinarily used in this country, but regular communists just like Lenin and Trotsky—are responsible for the investigations in Washington.

Their plan is to tear down our republican form of government and set up soviet rule in America.

The International, once established in Russia, wanted to extend its power to the United States. So some senators, like Wheeler and Brookhart, were summoned to Moscow to plan a revolution.

The investigations are the first step in this plot.

DO YOU BELIEVE IT?

Do you believe that yarn? Well, ex-Attorney General Daugherty tells it—tells it seriously, as a fact, not a mere crazy rumor or theory.

According to Daugherty, the Justice Department files out full evidence about it. That, he says, is why the conspirators were so anxious to get hold of the files. That's why he wouldn't give them up; resigned first.

Frank Vanderlip, adds Daugherty, is financing the plot.

MORE EVIDENCE

It wasn't the Justice Department alone that had files others were anxious to get possession of.

Gaston Means, International sleuth and star witness for the Daugherty investigation committee, had several suitcasesful. But Means' evidence wasn't against communists; his was against suspected traitors.

Two men, posing as Senate sergeant-at-arms, called on Means and demanded this evidence on an order ostensibly signed by Wheeler and Brookhart. Means surrendered it. Now it proves that Wheeler's and Brookhart's names were forged. Thus vanished a lot of evidence against suspected officials.

PRETTY POOR CASE

The charge that Wheeler used his senatorial influence before General Land Office Commissioner Spry to help Gordon Campbell, a Montana oil claimant, is falling very flat. Campbell denies it. On the contrary, Wheeler refused to appear for him. Spry, who ought to know, says Wheeler didn't appear.

SOLDIER'S BONUS

The Senate passed the soldier's bonus bill, on an insurance basis. The House must act yet, but it's so nearly in agreement with the Senate no hitch is likely. Authorities differ as to what the bonus will cost, but it will be a lot.

ARMS LIMITATION

President Coolidge has declared in favor of another international meeting to limit armaments; some more. However, this is based on the theory that the German reparations question has been settled. This doesn't seem so certain as it did.

UP TO AMERICA

To be sure, the interested countries did agree to the Dawes committee's reparations settlement plan, but now Premier Poincare of France reneges on giving up military control in Germany unless France gets some sort of a financial guarantee. Nobody but the United States can give such a guarantee, and it's been proved over and over again that the United States isn't going to.

MURPHY'S DEATH

Democratic politicians are all excited over the death of Boss Tammany. Republicans are at least interested.

It's the same in New York---and in New Orleans!

Personally, have you a friend who would like to buy a very poorly constructed out-of-style suit today at even $10?

Or, have you in your acquaintance a woman—any age—who would think of purchasing a bygone unfashionable hat at any price?

It's the same in New York—New Orleans—Devils Lake, Iowa—and it's the same in Appleton.

The people are demanding style—they are insisting on quality and when a store delivers both at a Value giving Price—it finds business too good to worry about!

See us Smiling—? That's because of the 20% increase in sales last month!

"TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR"

The consensus of opinion is that Al Smith's presidential candidacy gets a heavy setback—not that he loses any basic strength, but Tammany representing his real nucleus of supporters, is temporarily disorganized. Who'll profit by it? Politicians aren't certain yet. Ralston maybe. Not McAdoo. But it's too soon to say.

REVOLUTION

Honduras revolution is reported to have resulted in the killing of several American marines, ashore guarding United States lives and property. Though, presumably it was by accident. Washington officials are wondering if a good deal more interference, perhaps lasting a good while, mayn't be necessary.

Child Work Is Started By Auxiliary

American Legion Women Organize to Help Children of Veterans

The auxiliary of the American Legion has instituted child welfare as part of its relief work and chose Mrs. Louis Lohman chairman of this division at a meeting Thursday afternoon in Armory G. The object of child welfare is to look up children and widows of ex-service men so that aid may be given. If both parents are dead the children are to be placed in a home called a "billet," which is supported by the American Legion and the auxiliary. A special bulletin on this work was read by Mrs. Clyde Cavert, official reader. If the mother lives, the auxiliary will help her keep her family together.

A report by Mrs. W. R. Johnston, welfare chairman, showed that numerous calls have been made on ex-service men and their families and that in some instances money had been given to aid them.

Mrs. D. J. Boyle reported that $17.75 had been realized on a food sale for the benefit of ex-service women. The auxiliary has set aside April 6 as ex-service women's day and all money raised on this day will be for their benefit.

More than 5,000 books were distributed to school children in this city, according to a report by Mrs. J. H. Tippet, Americanization chairman. These tell the proper usage of the American flag.

Delegates to the state convention at Chippewa Falls Aug. 14-15 are Mrs. C. W. Mory, Mrs. Clyde Cavert, Mrs. LeRoy Myse, Mrs. Louis Plotow and Mrs. F. D. Kirk. Alternates are Mrs. Charles A. Green, Mrs. Dan Boyle, Mrs. A. E. Fisher, Mrs. J. H. Tippet and Mrs. K. T. Willy.

The ninth district conference will be held at Oconto on May 6. All those who intend to go are to notify Mrs. Mory so that reservations for the noon luncheon, may be made. No official delegates were appointed, but all those who are able to go have been urged to attend.

The women plan to have a noon luncheon on the first Thursday in June. A joint picnic supper with the American Legion is scheduled for the latter part of June.

Seventy dozen cookies were brought by the women Thursday and were packed and sent to the national home for tubercular ex-service men at Milwaukee.

This report was made at a meeting in the parish hall Thursday afternoon.

The contest started Feb. 1 and closed Thursday. The women raised the money by holding "baked goods sales, cafeterias and bazaars. They also passed out envelopes to members of the church and their friends, asking for aid.

Division A will serve a luncheon to the winner, division B, at the next meeting.

LETTER FROM FRISCILLA BRADFORD TO MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT

MY DEAR FRIEND:
I do not know just how to write you this letter. The whole matter is so delicate, however, that I am afraid I would not have the courage to place it before you, by word of mouth.

In the first place I want to say to you that I have almost come to your way of thinking about the movies. This whole town is given up to advertising that picture. "Trampling the Heart" Mr. Prescott told me the young woman who takes the principal part was an advertising model who came from Albany and a very rich cloak and suit maker sent her to Hollywood. They seem to think she is not a good woman.

I cannot understand, dear Mrs. Prescott, what this world is coming to when we allow such women to act for the screen. Why, even I felt sorry for her.

And they tell me she is earning two hundred thousand dollars a year. It is enough to make a virtuous woman like myself think that God has forsaken the world. Especially, my dear Mrs. Prescott, as we do not find this loose living only upon the stage and the moving pictures. In fact, I said to my friends the other night when we were dining at the Waldorf, that one could hardly eat in a public restaurant nowadays for fear of being contaminated by scarlet women.

Of course I know that you have not heard from your son John lately. I have been wondering, my dear friend, if he has taken your advice and separated from his wife.

Yesterday, after the episode of which it grieved my heart so to tell you, I saw Mrs. Prescott with her father and mother and this time again I was near her table and heard enough of the conversation to know that at least Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton were going abroad. I did not get whether Mrs. Prescott was going with them or not. I did, however, hear them talk of "the baby," and I know that your son's wife has it with her.

I think, and I am sure you will understand, I have a very plausible reason for thinking so, that there has been some misunderstanding between your dear John and his silly wife.

Of course her family, for whom I never cared much, would take their daughter's part, and the Englishman, whom I saw dining with her yesterday will probably return to England immediately, if not with them, shortly after.

You cannot tell how sorry I am for you and for your dear son. I shall remain here three or four days and you can use your own judgment whether you will write your son a letter of condolence or wait until he comes back to his mother's breast with his troubles. It is true I could not wait.

Sincerely and affectionately,
FRISCILLA

Prepare List Of Rooms Where Girls May Stay

Through the cooperation of the American Association of University Women, directors of Appleton Women's club recreation department will no longer have to cast about hurriedly for places in which girls coming to Appleton for work may stay for a night or two. A committee of the university association has undertaken a complete room registry for Appleton and Mrs. Frank Wall has been making personal calls in order that available rooms may be classified.

Mrs. Wall has made 33 successful visits to rooms which have been listed from time to time at the women's club office. She found that 11 of these rooms are no longer available. In each case she has been shown the room which will be rented and has received definite information concerning the accommodations which are offered with the room.

Through Mrs. Wall's efforts, Appleton Women's club now has a small list of rooms which will be available to tourists during the summer. Mrs. Wall's committee and Appleton Women's club is anxious to enlarge this list. Those who have rooms available for tourists may telephone the Women's club office and a visit of a member of the committee will follow.

Signs which tell of the room registry and call attention to the rest room facilities at Appleton Women's clubhouse are being placed in Appleton garages and depots.

Soloists Are Pleasing In Joint Concert

Peabody hall was well filled Thursday night when Winifred Wilson Quinlan, soprano, and Caroline Heess, mezzo-soprano, both members of the faculty of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, presented a recital. Mrs. Nettie Steninger Pullinwider accompanied the soloists.

Miss Heess scored in her Russian and German numbers and in the aria from "Le Boheime." The audience liked the French numbers that Mrs. Quinlan sang and "Spring Fancies" by Denmore from her English group. One of the numbers that Mrs. Quinlan sang was "Little White Bird," written by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taber. Mrs. Taber wrote the words and Mr. Taber composed the music.

A reception was held in Carl J. Werman's studio after the recital.

CALUMET-CO HAS KEY TO LOCATION OF STATE HIGHWAY

Down River Towns Given Little Hope That Highway 18 Will Be Changed

Residents of Kaukauna, Combined Locks and Kimberly who attended the highway hearing at the courthouse Thursday evening were given very little hope by the Wisconsin highway commission for securing the relocation of highway 18. They were informed by W. O. Hotchkiss, secretary of the commission who presided, that in order to secure the rerouting it would be necessary to get the consent of Calumet-co and he doubted if this could be done for at the hearing at Chilton Thursday morning the opposition to the relocation was practically unanimous.

The hearing was attended by more than 200 persons from Appleton, Kimberly, Combined Locks and Kaukauna. The highway commission was represented by A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, W. O. Hotchkiss, secretary, D. C. Welsh, George Staudenmayer, F. E. Turneure and A. C. Anderson. Several members of the legislative highway committee were present including Senator O. H. Morris, Richard Kampke and F. A. Fredricks.

CHANGE IN ROUTE 15

The first matter considered was the rerouting of highway 15 in Kaukauna from Draper and Taylor-sts to Blackst and Wisconsin-ave, over which it was formerly routed. Those participating in the discussion were almost unanimously in favor of the old route.

Mayor Charles E. Raught said he favored it and that the Business Men's association had asked for it. He informed the commission the contract for paving Wisconsin-ave had been let and that no such improvement was contemplated for Draper-st. At the Northwestern depot there was some question as to whether there was a highway, he said.

D. P. Steinberg of Appleton said there was a sharp corner at the intersection of Wisconsin-ave and Blackst and that some time ago a member of the chamber of commerce of that city visited him and suggested he make it a rounding corner. He owns several lots at that point and informed him he was willing to donate ten feet on Blackst and ten feet on Wisconsin-ave and that the offer is still good.

WIDER STREET

ave was about 70 feet wide and Blackst nearly 65 feet, while Draper-st was not to exceed 45 feet wide.

The rerouting of highway 18 into Appleton by way of Lake-ard instead of by way of Kaukauna was protested by down river residents who want it relocated to Appleton by way of Kaukauna, Combined Locks and Kimberly. When Kaukauna was left out in the rerouting a few months ago it was given highway 55 which was asked for at a hearing at Chilton and consequently did not urge its claim as emphatically as Kimberly and Combined Locks.

CITES ROAD TAXES

Joseph T. Doerfler of Kimberly said the people of his village were anxious to have highway 18 rerouted that way. He called attention to the fact the village was a heavy taxpayer and said in 1923 its share of highway improvement taxes was approximately $13,000 and in 1924 the amount was larger still.

Mr. Doerfler was informed by the presiding officer that the highway commission could not relocate the highway without the consent of the county board of Calumet-co. Engineer A. R. Hirst inquired of the speaker if there were any sharp turns at the highway in that vicinity and if he knew how many grass crossings there were between Appleton and Kaukauna. He informed Mr. Doerfler there were eight.

MUST GET CONSENT

The Rev. F. X. vanNistelrooy of Kimberly made also a strong appeal for rerouting highway 18 by way of that village, but was informed by the chairman it was not so much a question of argument as it was a question of the consent of Calumet-co to make the change.

The present highway 18 follows highway 114 from Sherwood to Lake-ard and thence north into Appleton. The question was asked if this was not a more hazardous route than the one asked by Kimberly and Combined Locks which was conceded, but the taxpayers were informed that a portion of the traffic was soon to be diverted by way of Cherry-st bridge.

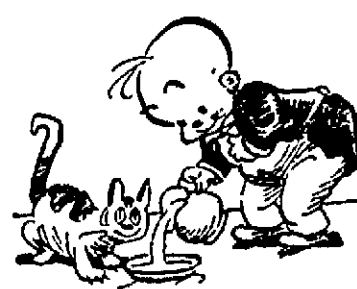

State Engineer A. R. Hirst called attention to the location of east and west federal highways across the state, to the amount of traffic in Fox river valley and to the importance of highways 15 and 18 compared with which all other highways in this part of the state sink into insignificance.

WILL USE NEW BRIDGE

problem was the building of Cherry-st bridge and he said he could safely say that the state highway commission has every intention of bringing traffic over that structure as soon as it is completed.

As to the best routing of a federal highway between Neenah and Menasha and Fremont, by way of Appleton or by way of Winchester, Winnebago-co, the state engineer called for an expression of those present which favored the Appleton route. Division Engineer O. C. Rollman of Green Bay said the distance by way of highway

Good Reading Is Found In "Not Wanted"

A new kind of story, which is not of love, of adventure, or of the degenerate younger generation, is "Not Wanted" by Jesse Lynch Williams. The situation perhaps has never before been told—but it is not an uncommon one. It is of a baby who is not wanted and when he grows older he is still not wanted, for Phil, the father, is jealous of the mother's society. Only once in all of Junior's childhood did Phil exhibit the traditional father love which all parents supposedly supply on tap as required. For the rest of the time, he displays a beautiful indifference to his boy by gallivanting off to the wilds of the Andes and Monakia, leaving Junior to the fate of a boarding school and a maiden aunt. "Who still has hopes" (the mother died young, instead of the child, as the father hoped).

But Phil was human, and his will of indifference finally broke—only to find that he was a stranger to his son. It is the boy, who unwittingly, makes possible the customary ideal of parent and child relationship.

Mr. Williams has for the past five years been producing plays; this influence is shown in "Not Wanted"—actions and speech tell the story—not lengthy and tedious expository and descriptive passages. The hero worshipping boy is so true and so human in his attempt to win honor among his school friends by means of a mythological, devoted, daring and handsome father. His reticence and self-deprecation, because of his spindly legs and failure to make the school eleven, is pitiful, but, nevertheless, real.

The father, too, appears vividly—like the son he is reticent in affection display at least—and he arouses one's sympathy through is very bigness and boldness in worldly things but his inability to let his own boy know of his love.

"Not Wanted" is a human interest story—it has pathos, yet never becomes maudlin, and has occasionally a bit of humor. Perhaps because of this very pathos and the truth and humaneness underneath, one cannot forget it. It is of interest to everyone—but especially to men, and men who have boys.

First Interscholastic Carnival Will Include 15 Events to Be Run off on Football Field Here.

Lawrence meets Stevens Point Normal here Saturday afternoon in the opening carnival of the field and track season, and according to all indications will run into some hard competition. There are 14 events on the schedule which will be run off on the Lawrence athletic field beginning at 1 o'clock.

Originally Carroll college of Waukegan was scheduled to oppose Lawrence here on this date, but decided several days ago to make a change because its athletes were unprepared for action. Stevens Point agreed to a change in dates.

A nominal charge will be made for admissions.

ATTEMPT TO BUILD INTERCOUNTY LOOP STRIKES NEW SNAG

Five Clubs Are Signed Definitely and Several Others Willing to Join

Winnecoonne has been added to the four clubs already in the intercounty baseball league in process of construction, and the directors have three or four clubs under consideration. The meeting held in New London Thursday night was unsuccessful as far as completing the organization is concerned because the representatives failed to show up in full force. However, it resulted in the definite entry of Winnecoonne, and a tentative agreement as to the other teams which will be invited to come in.

Further arrangements will be completed by direct negotiations between the organizers and the directors of the clubs before the next meeting will be called. This convocation has been tentatively for May 12, and probably will be held in the offices of the Post-Crescent in Appleton.

It is planned to play the opening game on May 18. If the loop is completed by that time, it will probably be allowed to drop. With five clubs already definitely in and but one more to sign, there is not much chance of this happening.

DISPUTE HOLDS UP CARP'S PAY FOR VIENNA GO

Austrians Disagree with Judges on Deciding Blow of Townley Battle

Vienna — Georges Carpentier's share of the purse of his fight Thursday with Arthur Townley, British light heavyweight, was held up Friday pending a decision by the Vienna Boxing association regarding the fairness of the blow with which Townley was knocked out in the second round.

Expert followers of the fighting game seated at the ringside agreed with the referee that the fight was ended by a blow to the solar plexus and that it was one of the cleanest knockouts on record. To some of the uninitiated Austrians however, it appeared low. Withholding of the purse may delay Carpentier's departure from Havre for the United States Saturday to meet Gibbons.

Townley was badly punished by the former world champion, being felled several times. The end came after four and one-half minutes of fighting. Carpentier, contrary to his usual style, fought at close quarters and some of his most effective blows were delivered during the fierce fighting. Townley was came but helpless against the Frenchman's ring craft.

APPLETON BEATS VOLLEYBALL TEAM FROM FOND DU LAC

Invaders Change Arrangements for Double Match at Last Minute

Appleton had little difficulty in humbling the Fond du Lac volleyball team which invaded this city Thursday night, and took four out of five games played. The invaders had been scheduled to send two teams here, but at the last moment notified A. P. Jensen, athletic director of the Appleton Y. M. C. A., that owing to unforeseen circumstances they would bring only a pickup team. However, they put up a good fight and made some of the games extremely interesting.

The home team took the first three games without a stumble, 15 to 4, 15 to 1 and 15 to 3. The third was anybody's game up to the final second, but the invaders got the best of it, 15 to 14. They were unable to keep up the sport in the final game, which they dropped, 15 to 1.

Appleton—F. C. Reuter, F. Ansell, G. Barlow, Al Bradford, James Murray, John Nelson.

CAMBRIDGE AND OXFORD ANCIENT ROWING RIVALS

British Sculling Crew Started Racing 83 Years Ago, Apr. 14, 1841

Boston—Eighty-three years ago, Oxford and Cambridge universities staged their first rowing contest. That was on April 14, 1841.

Today, after 77 renewals, the annual struggle of the shells is still regarded as one of England's greatest sportive classics. A crowd of upward of 100,000 is nothing out of the ordinary when the old rivals get together.

Oxford-Cambridge contests are to the English folk what Yale-Harvard and Army-Navy football games are to the Americans. They hold top place to the sporting fraternity.

The Oxford-Cambridge fued also ranks as one of the oldest athletic contests in the world. In fact, it is extremely doubtful if it can be approached for longevity as an annual meeting.

While Cambridge won the first race, Oxford has thus far enjoyed the most success. Oxford to date has 40 victories to her credit, Cambridge 35, with the 1877 splash ending in a dead heat. Oxford twice has won nine straight times, 1861 to 1869 and 1890 to 1893. Cambridge has turned the trick five successive years, 1870 to 1874.

The best time for the 4-1-4-mile course was made by Oxford in 1911. That time out the Oxford shell skipped through to victory in 15 minutes, 29 seconds. Cambridge came within 12 seconds of equalling this mark in the race this year.

QUESTIONS

1. It is possible for a batsman to reach first base on a foul fly ball that is caught?

2. Why doesn't the infield fly rule apply with a runner on first base only?

3. If for some reason a player fails to bat during an entire round of the batting order, what happens?

ANSWERS

1. Yes, a batsman can reach first on a foul fly that is caught, if while making such a hit the catcher interferes with him.

2. Because there is never a chance of making a double play, if the batsman will run out his hit as he is supposed to.

3. If for some reason he should fail to hit during an entire round, and the mistake is not properly discovered, the batsman simply takes his regular turn the next time around.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Tex Rickard is peeved at Luis Firpo's dilly-dallying and has arranged for a bout between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills, leaving the Pampas Bull to graze in his home pasture if he wants. Fans incline to the belief that Tex means to put Luis in the discard as far as the United States is concerned, and no one is shedding many tears over this decision.

Carpenter had little difficulty in putting Tondler to rest in their Vienna battle, but he is having some trouble in collecting his share of the receipts. Some of the Austrian fans who witnessed the bout claim the Frenchman put his British opponent away with a foul blow. The judges ruled it fair, but anyhow Carp may have to wait a while before he can sail for the "land of the free."

"Rabbit" Maranzelli surprised a lot of doubtful Thomases Thursday by stealing home and thereby winning a game for the Pirates, 2 to 1, over Chicago. The ancient Pittsburgher pulled his stuff in old-time style, and gave the Chicago rookie who occupied the mound at the time a valuable lesson.

Lawrence Saturday is opening both the field and track and the tennis season with Stevens Point Normal as its rival in the former and a team of Carroll college stars to compete with in the latter. The Blue athletes made a good showing in their interclass meet last week despite lack of outdoor practice, and the prowess of the netters is known from last year.

The law, he went down for a count of three and then went down five more times in rapid succession from a series of head and body smashes which he was too groggy to see.

Wolpin struck but one effective blow in the remainder of the scrap, spending his time hanging on. Wolpin claimed a foul in the seventh but it was not allowed.

Appleton-Kaukauna Game Opens Season

Ancient Rivals Clash in Initial Contest Sunday When Papermakers Invade Electric City.

Baseball fans of the valley are eagerly waiting for the opening of the Wisconsin State league baseball season, which will take the Papermakers to Kaukauna. Sunday afternoon for the opening clash with a new Electric City outfit, with a former big league pitcher and two new men in the field, Appleton expects to get off to a good start and keep well up among the leaders this season.

Six of last year's veterans are back on the Paper City lineup, and the management of David Smith who takes over the destinies of the club this year has added considerable pep to the Appleton organization. Harry Sylvester gave up the management of the team after he had found it almost impossible to play ball, manage his business and attend to all the details of running the team, but he is determined to take his old place in center field. "Shorty" Wenzel who succeeded "Doc" Delmore behind the log last year with great success will do his stuff in the same position. Ambrose Weisgerber is back on first, Marty Lamers has been shifted from second to third, Ted Lamers still sticks to his job as shortstop, and Len Smith is out in leftfield.

SUZANNE CAN'T STAND STRAIN OF TWO MEETS

In passing up the Wimbledon tournament this season, Suzanne Lenglen is not doing so because of any grievance against the English fans. The French player doesn't believe she can stand the strain of two international tournaments, and she prefers to play in the Olympiad.

RICKARD PUSHES SOUTH AMERICAN TO BACKGROUND

Announcement of Dempsey-Wills Bout Indicates Firpo's Finish

Buenos Aires—The announcement that Tex Rickard had matched Dempsey and Wills for a fight in September is viewed in sporting circles here as signifying not only that Rickard has definitely abandoned his efforts to induce Luis Firpo to return to the ring, but has eliminated any possible chance of his return under any other opponents for the Argentine heavyweight who would make a fight sufficiently attractive. When the news was received of the Dempsey-Wills match, Firpo was speeding northward by automobile on a business trip. Close friends of Firpo do not believe that he will ever return to the ring. They disclaim the truth of the report that he was influenced to abandon boxing by a young woman in whose company he has often been seen, declaring that he prefers a business life, for which fighting has given him a start he never could have obtained otherwise.

Waterloo, Ia.—Everett Strong, Mason City, won a newspaper decision over Albert Knipp, Waterloo, in eight rounds.

Cambridge, Mass.—In a dual track and field meet, Harvard defeated Virginia, 82 to 44.

HILLTOP PLANS SUMMER SCHOOL FOR ATHLETICS

Marquette Will Teach Coaching for First Time This Year

Milwaukee—Courses in athletic coaching will be given at the summer session this year by the Marquette department of physical education for the benefit of instructors in secondary schools who are engaged in teaching during the regular school year. This will be the first coaches school ever conducted by Marquette. The summer course opens June 23, in the Marquette gymnasium and on the adjoining athletic field. It will be open to graduates of accredited high schools.

The coaching faculty will include Frank J. Murray, Coach of football, basketball and baseball at Marquette university; Conrad M. Jennings, track coach and athletic director at Marquette; Henry J. Mowles, physical director, Milwaukee-co day school and formerly track coach at the University of Vermont and Dr. Joseph King, former Marquette university athlete.

Coach Murray will teach football, basketball and baseball coaching, the same to include theory, interpretation of rules equipment and methods of play. Coach Jennings will be in charge of instruction in calisthenics and community recreation; while Dr. Mowles will give a course in field and track athletics. Dr. King is scheduled for an interesting summer class in anatomy, a course which will emphasize the relation and functions of anatomy as foundation work for the study of growth, physiology of exercise, physical examination, bodily mechanics, massage and first aid.

Re ne Lacoste, French Youth, Is New Tilden

Young Rene Lacoste is being hailed in European tennis circles as the most probable successor to William Tilden as monarch of the courts.

Lacoste has just ended a brilliant season at the fashionable resorts abroad and London and Paris critics are singing his praises in extravagant terms.

Lacoste, who is only 19 years old, was here with the French Davis cup team last summer, but did not play impressively. Evidently he has improved materially.

Paris—French fight fans regarded the victory of Carpentier, over Townley at Vienna as a "set up" preparatory to the French fighter's trip to the United States.

Johnson Spikes Yank Guns And Athletics Stop Champions, 3 To 2

Wayland Dean Pitches Giants to 9 to 1 Victory Over Boston for Second Win of Season.

The iron arm of Walter Johnson spiked the guns of the Yankee cannonaders Thursday and the world's champions lost to Washington, 3 to 2, after winning eight straight games. Detroit was beaten by St. Louis, 8 to 7, and the first place tie remained unbroken in the American league.

Wayland Dean, John McGraw's pleasant dream from the American association, pitching his third clever game and his second victory of the season, beat Boston, 9 to 1, and kept the Giants in front of the National parade by two full games.

Johnson held the Yankee sluggers to two blows in six innings and gave way to Marberry after Ward and Scott tripled in the seventh. The youngster held the one-run advantage by effective work in the pinches in the last three innings. Meusel nailed twice with the winning runs waiting.

DETROIT BOWS TO BROWNS

Detroit fell before three St. Louis homeruns which accounted for seven of the Browns' tallies. Ken Williams and Tobin hit for the circuit with two on. Jacobson made the others. Urbane Shocker was in a Brown uniform for the first time since his recent illness.

Pitcher Shantz of the Indians muffed the third out in the first inning before being retired, and Chicago turned the error into four runs. Cleveland could never quite overcome the lead and the White Sox won, 13 to 7. Rommel of the Athletics, one of the steadiest pitchers in the American league this season, was driven from the mound by the Red Sox who won, 5 to 1, with Quinn pitching. Hauser's third homer scored the lone Philadelphia run.

The pitching firm of Mays and May of Cincinnati suffered serious losses from a batting rally by the Chicago Cubs, who included seven two-base hits, a triple and Hartnett's homer among the 17 hits that resulted in an 8 to 1 victory. Aldridge was in good form.

Pittsburgh bunched hits in two innings, with Carey getting four, and defeated St. Louis, 8 to 6. Brooklyn with Stock again leading the attack, made 15 hits off four Philly pitchers and won, 10 to 4. Cy Williams got his second homerun.

Milton Stock, former Cardinal third baseman, continues to star with the bat for the Dodgers. Stock pounded out three more hits, giving him a total of five since joining the club two days ago.

Catcher John Schulte of the St. Louis Browns has been sold to the Toledo American association club.

Ernest Osborne, the big right hand pitcher who joined the Cubs two years ago coming from Atlanta, has been awarded to Brooklyn via the waiver route.

Charlie Jamieson, star leftfielder of the Cleveland Indians who has been out of the game because of an attack of grippe, returned to the game against the White Sox and smashed out two hits in five times at bat.

Ed Roush, Cincinnati Red outfielder, who has been out of the lineup since April 20, resumed his place in centerfield against the Cubs but retired after making one hit in two times at bat.

CITY FATHERS GET INSIGHT INTO EACH OTHERS' PROBLEMS

Sixty Members of Boards and Commissions Attend Harmony Meeting

with his own accompaniment on a ukelele. Mrs. Barry gave two splendid readings.

ENDS ZONE LAW

The guests were welcomed by H. G. Saenger, president of the vocational school board, who said that appreciation was one of the great needs and that officials should be given more praise than criticism. An address by Mayor Goodland followed. F. S. Bradford, chairman of the city planning commission, then spoke concerning the zoning law. He told how the city planner and the commission had worked for months to give Appleton the finest and fairest zoning law possible, but that like most other legislation, people did not realize there was such a measure until their toes were stepped on. A man wanting to build a garage up against another man's house or a man wishing to build his house further out into the street than his neighbor found himself stopped and then criticism of the law usually was heard.

"We ought to be very particular and careful in amending the zoning ordinance," he said, "because when we do so, we are starting a strong argument with the man who comes to us with a request for changes. In the final analysis we cannot make the city beautiful unless we have the love of the beautiful in our hearts. We must study the zoning law and understand that its great purpose is that all the people have a fair chance to have plenty of light and room to enjoy the property they own."

Prof. Fairfield spoke for Charles Boyd, president of the newly created park commission, who was absent from the city. He declared it is the purpose of the commission to return a dollar to the citizens and to citizens for every dollar that is put into the parks. The commissioners do not intend to be spendthrifts but will go slowly, he said. With more automobiles coming, children must have a place to play in clean surroundings and that is what the park commission will aim to do. The parks also will be a place where older people may rest brain and body and breathe the fresh air. Parks also ought to serve as an inspiration to the vast number of people who do not attend church.

SAVE RIVER FRONT

"One of the most pressing things the board needs to do is to conserve the river front," said Prof. Fairfield. "This will mean the joining of Pierce and Allie parks and the addition of land at other points. The sooner it is done the better, otherwise individuals with money and an idea of the beautiful will obtain those places."

The speaker urged a park for the Fifth ward, because that part of the city is growing and provision should be made for the children's play while the land is cheap.

Providing the municipal pumping station with a proper intake is the problem which the water commission has at heart, said its chairman J. J. Plank. He declared this would cost considerable money but it ought to be done. With the city growing to the west, the proper disposition of sewage must be taken care of.

Dr. M. J. Sandborn, president of the board of health, said he hoped the city would employ in the near future a full time health official, specially trained for the work. No practitioner can do all of the things a specially qualified man could for the health interests of the city. A laboratory for examination of food, milk, water and things which spread disease should be a part of a department of this kind. Economy in promoting the health activities of the city would result in the end, he said.

Many cities already have done this and feel their money is well invested. Mrs. L. C. Steeper spoke for the library board and told how the patronage of the library is growing, especially in the children's department. She said the officials should bring their problems to the library, where help is sure to be found in solving them.

Miss Mabel Burke, Charles Foss, president of the common council, R. M. Connolly, city engineer, Judson G. Rosebush of the vocational board, Miss Carrie Morgan, superintendent of schools, Alvin C. Besser, city attorney, F. E. Bachman, city treasurer and member of vocational board, Dr. H. E. Peabody of the library board and T. J. Ryan, president of the library board, also responded to Mr. Thompson's request for talks. Mr. Rosebush said the city ought to take more advantage of the beauty with which nature has endowed us and keep ahead of other communities in beautifying. Miss Morgan said the railroad in Bellaire park should be removed and a river drive be provided on the old military road. She also asked for an ordinance to abate the smoke nuisance. Mr. Ryan urged a bigger appropriation for the library as one means of building up Appleton's moral life among the young.

JUMPS TO DEATH AFTER VISITING WIFE'S GRAVE

Manitowoc—Telling members of the family that he was going to Two Rivers to see relatives, Joseph Feltman, 31, of Manitowoc, committed suicide in that city by jumping into the river from the dock of the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Co.'s plant after visiting his wife's grave in the "Two Rivers" cemetery. Although rescued from drowning by Alfred Jeahy, an employee of the company, the aged man died shortly afterward in the first aid room of the factory. Feltman lived with his son, Anton, in Manitowoc, and formerly resided at Two Rivers. Another son, John, also survives. It is believed the dead man was despondent.

and the tables will pivot. Any one wishing to entertain a number of guests at this party may make the reservations at the clubhouse or with any of the committee.

One Thin Woman Gained 10 Pounds in 22 Days

Skinny Men Can Do The Same

All weak men and women. All nervous men and women. All skinny men and women. Can grow stronger, healthier and take on weight in 30 days by just taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets four times a day—as easy to take as candy.

And what a bit these flesh producing tablets have made—every druggist is selling more and more of them every day.

Everybody knows that nasty-tasting, evil-smelling Cod Liver Oil is chock full of vitamins and is a wonderful flesh producer and strength creator. But who wants to swallow the horrible stuff when these wonderful tablets—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—are just as good and so easy to take. A box of 60 tablets for 60 cents—and if any thin man or woman don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days—money back. Ask Schlitz Bros., Downer's Drug Store or any good druggist anywhere.

"Get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablets," adv.

HUGE BUS MAKES DAILY TRIPS THROUGH APPLETON

Considerable attention has been attracted by a huge white bus that has been seen on the streets here. It is a Fargo safety coach operated by the Valley Transportation Co. and makes daily trips between Green Bay and Stevens Point. The bus leaves here at 10:20 in the morning for Green Bay and stops again at 2:40 in the afternoon on its way to Stevens Point.

It is one of the largest busses in the state. It is 20 feet long with a load of 70 inches and can seat 24 passengers. An 80 horsepower engine provides power.

Graham

NOT all graham crackers are Quality Graham.
The word "Quality" lightly pressed on the face of each cracker is like the "sterling" on silver.

Children have a simpler means of identifying Quality—the brown crackers that taste so good.

After all that's the best test, isn't it?

BREAD

—the World's dependable food

Bread is the food that supports the world.
Nations everywhere—in Asia, Africa or America depend for their very life upon their daily bread—without it health and strength dwindle.

Puritan bread supplies the strength and substance that enables men to work with bristling activity.

Eat a loaf of Puritan bread a day
—you will enjoy every crumb.
It is the bread from whole wheat that imparts health thru its substantial, wholesome ingredients—its very lightness and flavor stamp it as the work of an expert baker.

WHEDON'S DEMAND FOR $20,000 FOR ALLEY REJECTED

Condemnation Proceedings Will Be Started to Acquire Property

Twenty thousand dollars, or $25,000 a front foot is the price asked by S. A. Whedon for the strip of land necessary for widening the west end of the alley in block 28 to 16 feet. The entrance on Onondaga is now 8 feet.

This was brought out by a committee appointed by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., in its report to the common council at a special meeting called by the mayor late Thursday afternoon. The committee was appointed for the purpose of acquiring the land necessary for widening the alley and it recommended condemnation proceedings.

SUBJECT TO CALL
The report was referred to the committee of the whole, and upon the council resolving itself into such committee a recess was taken subject to the call of Alderman C. F. Smith, who was called to the chair. The report of the committee is signed by Robert C. Zilske, chairman, and reads:

The committee of the common council appointed by the mayor to call upon the property owners in block 28, Appleton, Wisconsin for the purpose of acquiring a strip of land which would be involved in the widening of the public alley in the aforesaid block, met with Samuel Whedon on the evening of April 30, 1924.

They presented to Mr. Whedon the matter of acquiring the additional eight feet from his property, being the southwest corner lot of the said block, for the purpose of widening said alley to 16 feet by gift or by purchase at an agreed price and your committee found that Mr. Whedon would not convey said strip of land to the city without some cash consideration and that his price for the eight feet parcel with said alley was $20,000.

That this committee does not believe that the property under consideration is worth the sum which Mr. Whedon asks for the same and that they recommend condemnation proceedings under chapter 32 of the Wisconsin statutes for 1923, to secure the property for said purposes.

Your committee further reports that it has been unable to interview John Conway, Henry Schuster, Matt Schmidt, T. W. Woolworth company, the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power company and Jack Shapiro, up to this time, but that they will see the aforesaid persons for the purpose of acquiring by gift, or by purchase at an agreed price, the property owned by said persons and corporations necessary to widen to 16 feet the said alley in the aforesaid block, and will determine whether or not the property can be acquired by gift or by purchase at an agreed price, or whether they will recommend condemnation proceedings under chapter 32 of the Wisconsin statutes for 1923.

PLAN TO DOUBLE BADGER FURNACE COMPANY OUTPUT.

Chamber of Commerce Is Told of Addition of New Product to Its Line

Expansion plans of the Badger Furnace company were revealed to the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at the biweekly dinner at Vermoulen's Wednesday evening. J. J. and Harry A. Schlegel, owners of the concern described how the manufacture of a new type of furnace would double the output.

The board also heard the report of J. E. Carners, chairman of the publicity and convention committee, discussed organization of standing committees and made plans for the convention of the national chamber. Reincorporation for $75,000 is one of the first steps taken by the Badger Furnace company in its plan of enlargement, the board was told by the owners. This was brought about because designs and patterns have been completed and the new type of furnace is being manufactured. The present plant is ample to take care of the increased production. It was said up to double the present amount, so no building activity will be carried out.

COMPANY HAS GROWN

Financial statements of the company were submitted showing assets of more than $75,000, and indicating substantial growth of the plant during the last 11 years. A nominal amount of the common stock created under the new capitalization is to be sold to finance the expansion.

Mr. Carners declared in his report that a representative of Wisconsin, The Land o' Lakes, Inc. would be asked to come here to assist a local committee in obtaining the balance of the $2,600 fund which is this county's quota for the state advertising campaign. He explained that Neenah had practically 100 per cent support of manufacturers and believed this would be possible here if those who have not subscribed would be visited. He also explained how cooperation is given by his committee in conventions here.

A request was made by the retail trades committee for a conference with the industrial committee at which problems in common to both will be discussed. No date was set.

COMPLETE COMMITTEES

Committee appointments will be completed next week, according to arrangements made by the board. Half of the membership of each will be new men and all members who would like to serve on a committee or who have any definite kind of community effort

A. A. (JUICY) GRITZMACHER PUTS OLD-TIMERS TO SHAME BY HOOKING TROUT WEIGHING 2 1/2 POUNDS.

Beginners luck!

That's the explanation which friends of A. A. (Juicy) Gritzmacher, tonsorial artist, are offering while Juicy cavorts happily about showing a rainbow trout weighing 2 1/2 pounds which he caught on Thursday in the Little Wolf river, near Big Falls. Juicy admits it is the first trout he ever caught and Thursday was the first time he ever tried to catch trout.

Juicy was fishing along the stream when he felt a mighty tug on his line and with a heave he yanked Mr. Rainbow Trout out of the rushing water and landed him on the bank. Juicy was so excited that he scrambled on his hands and knees to the prize fish to prevent his escape. It was his first catch of the day, and so far as the glory goes, it was the only one.

Juicy this morning was undecided whether to eat or to mount the Rainbow.

They would like to see carried out are invited to give the chamber their names. The standing committee are: Community welfare, publicity and convention, industrial, industrial finding, rural, retail and monthly forum. There are eight to ten members on each.

Seymour Gmelner, national councillor of the Appleton chamber, and Hugh G. Corbett, secretary, will attend the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Cleveland. It opens Monday with a session of councillors, and continues for several days. Mr. Gmelner will leave Saturday.

MENASHA AFFAIRS TIED UP BY SUIT

Menasha — Municipal affairs are at a standstill and taxpayers are becoming impatient over delay in conducting the city's business. The new council is virtually powerless to act because of a suit started by former Mayor M. M. Schoetz to invalidate the April 1 election because of alleged irregularities. Only the most necessary matters are receiving attention and as a result a mass of important business items are accumulating. Numerous delays have been encountered in the courts and week to week postponements have dragged affairs along now for nearly a month.

to insist that his musicians play their concerts from memory. In spite of the fact the personnel of the band is constantly shifting, which is true of all college organizations, he has been able to maintain a very high standard.

Because of the large advance ticket sale it is believed a capacity crowd will hear tonight's concert. St. Olaf choir left so good an impression on Appleton music lovers that hundreds of them are eager to hear its companion organization.

FORMER MAILMAN NOW IS AUTHOR

George R. Fox, remembered by many Appleton people as city mail carrier on a route in the First ward, has made a new bid for fame. He has blossomed out as an author and his book, "The Fangs of the Serpent," has just been issued by Milton, Balch and Co., of New York.

"The Fangs of the Serpent" is an interesting mystery story of Chicago. It is centered partly about the adventures of a newspaperman who stumbles into a strange death case.

Mr. Fox now is curator of a museum at Three Oaks, Mich., a position which he has held for several years. He left Appleton eight or nine years ago to take up his new work.

SEEK HUSBAND WHEN WIFE IS ARRESTED

Ashland—Ashland police are investigating the disappearance of L. I. Hunt, following a raid on the Hunt home where they found Mrs. Hunt and Julius Hagedorn living in the same apartment. Mrs. Hunt could give no evidence where her husband was, saying that he had left in February, but showed two letters to the police signed by William Edelstein and mailed from the Twin cities. She claimed the letters were from her husband, but that he had used another name.

She told police that she and her husband quarreled but had no quarrel over Hagedorn, as he knew nothing of her relations with the former.

Mrs. Hunt said that Hagedorn had aided in furnishing the place where they were living together, but would not give any reason why Hunt disappeared, except that he owed money.
